BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

The Herbaugh and Seelig families were both long time residents of Washington Township, Blackford County, Indiana. The families were united by marriage when Walter Seelig married Della May Herbaugh on February 3, 1915 in Hartford City, Indiana. Della May Herbaugh (March 5, 1888-March 28, 1980) was born to Samuel Herbaugh and Alice Casterline in Washington Township, Blackford County, Indiana. She had three siblings, Carl (Henrietta Sameuk), Lena (Ray Ford) and James (Mary Ellen Trant). Della attended the local schoolhouse at Wadle, Indiana and married former school teacher and farmer Walter Seelig. Walter (April 15, 1883-March 3, 1966) was a graduate of the Marion Normal School and was the grandson of early Blackford County resident Frederick Seelig and son of Isaac and Sarah (Russell) Seelig. Walter was the middle child, with an older brother, Frank (Inez Martin), and a younger sister, Millie. Della and Walter inherited Frederick Seelig's farm and had two daughters, Catharine (Seelig) Dick and Jessie (Seelig) Newton. Catharine went on to take over residence at the Seelig farm from her parents once they retired.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This collection contains snapshots, posed studio portraits, postcard photographs, cabinet cards, cirkut photographs, and a few small manuscript materials all relating to the Herbaugh and Seelig families, both of whom resided for multiple generations in Blackford County, Indiana. In general, the images, most from the first half of the twentieth century, are mostly formal portraits of family members and family groups, some candid, and exterior shots of family residences. Many of the photographs are identified, likely by Catharine (Seelig) Dick. The photographs have been grouped together by family member or type of image, and the folders have been arranged in the boxes and in the guide chronologically.
