Fall Creek Monthly Meeting (Hicksite) Births and Deaths (Madison County)

Edited by Ruth Dorrel and Thomas D. Hamm

Fall Creek Monthly Meeting was set off from Milford Monthly Meeting and first held on Eleventh Month 14, 1839. It consisted of Fall Creek Preparative Meeting east of Pendleton in Madison County and Duck Creek Preparative Meeting near Greensboro in Henry County. In 1848 Fall Creek established Rush Creek Preparative Meeting in Wabash County. In 1854 it was joined with Maple Grove Preparative Meeting in Huntington County, which had previously been subordinate to Whitewater Monthly Meeting, to form Maple Grove Monthly Meeting.

Friends from Chester County, Pennsylvania, began to settle near Pendleton in the late 1820s. In the summer of 1833, Jonathan Thomas, a Chester County Friend then sixty-six years old, was visiting his daughter Rebecca, who had married John J. Lewis and had settled near Pendleton. One morning, while following an Indian trail leading over the hill back of the future site of Fall Creek meetinghouse, he reached the point where a few years later he was buried. There he had what Friends called an "opening." In 1839 he wrote of it to Rachel Hicks, a Friend from Long Island:

As I was walking the road where the meetinghouse and graveyard now are, I felt a remarkable stoppage in mind on which I turned half around. I then had a full view of the ground where they are. The language distinctly to the inner man, passed through my mind, "Now, buy this place and give Friends a lot for a meeting house and grave yard."

But the above language followed me to Pennsylvania as a duty to perform and in one year I was here again with my family, having in the fall of 1833 instructed my son-in-law, J. J. Lewis to purchase the place having sent money for that purpose. I remembered that there were three or four families of Friends here and I felt that I ought to be one of their number. (From a paper prepared by Evangeline E. Lewis and read by Rebecca L. Swain for the Pendleton Art Association, June 26, 1923.)

Fall Creek Meeting was unusual among Quaker communities in Indiana in being composed largely of Friends from Pennsylvania. This was less the case in Duck Creek Preparative Meeting, where many families had North Carolina roots. Well into the twentieth century, Fall Creek remained one of the largest Hicksite monthly meetings in the Midwest. Duck Creek Preparative Meeting was laid down in 1915, but the Hicksite Cemetery, as it is still called, remains at the east edge of Greensboro. Fall Creek still exists on the land that Jonathan Thomas set aside for it in 1833.

The first volume of men's minutes is now lost. Fortunately, Hinshaw's abstractors had access to it in the 1930s, and those abstracts have been used. The Fall Creek Monthly Meeting records are in the Ohio Valley Yearly Meeting Archives at Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio. They have been microfilmed. The records indicated with an asterisk (*) were examined for this abstract. They have been supplemented by inscriptions from tombstones at Fall Creek and Duck Creek.
