BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Charles R. Childs (1875–1960) was a prominent Chicago photographer and post card manufacturer. He produced postcards from the early 1900s and continued working into the 1950s. The 1910 Federal Census shows Childs as single and living in Chicago. His profession was listed as “Manufacturer of postcards” at that time. By 1920 the Census listed his profession as “Printer.”

The C.R. Childs Company produced postcard images from the states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin. The donor, Earl Moore, a postcard collector from Wooddale, Illinois, met Childs prior to his death about 1960. It was at that time that Moore acquired the Childs Company inventory of photographs, sample postcards, and glass negatives and was present the final day his office on Lake Street was being cleared.

According to the donor, Mr. Childs sent photographers out on the interurban trains from Chicago to various towns in the mid-west to capture views that could be saleable as postcard views. C.F. Walters, one of the photographers, contributed pictures to the collection.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The collection contains photographs, postcards, and one glass plate negative that were used by the C. R. Child's Company to produce scenic postcards. Approximately 500 items depict views of recreation areas, lakes, resorts, and resort towns across Indiana. Most of the photographs show families and individuals on vacation at beaches, state parks, and playgrounds. Views of resort towns show amenities such as dance halls, pavilions, and shopping areas. A small number of photographs show natural features, and "car camping" sites in Indiana Dunes State Park, and Turkey Run State Park. The collection also includes scenes of student activities and buildings at Culver Military Academy, and photographs of hospitals, hotels, schools and other public buildings in small towns across Indiana. The photographs were made between ca. 1900 and ca. 1950.

The following Indiana counties are represented in this collection:

Brown County, Fulton County, Hendricks County, Kosciusko County, Lake County, Marshall, Monroe County, Owen County, LaPorte County, Parke County, Porter County, St. Joseph, Starke County, Tippecanoe County, and Wayne County.

Many of the photographs and "proof" postcards have typed and handwritten notes in various hands on their verso. The notes sometimes list numbers and provide identification and instructions for printers. The processors have transcribed the identifying information for each image in the Contents section of the collection guide. Some images are not identified and in those cases the processors have provided that information in square [] brackets.

The collection is stored in four full-size document cases. An I.H.S. processor arranged the photographs alphabetically according to the geographical location. 1 broken glass plate negative is stored in a flat box.
