BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Samuel Zent (1835–1897) was born in Pennsylvania and moved with his parents to Ohio where he was an apprentice tinsmith. He later married Sarah Price and moved first to Huntington County, Indiana and later to Allen County, Indiana, where he was a metal worker for a railroad. In June 1861 he enlisted in the 13th Indiana Regiment as a corporal in Company F, rose through the ranks to lieutenant colonel, commanded the regiment at Fort Fisher and was mustered out in April 1865. After the war he returned to Indiana and lived in Roanoke, Huntington County and Perry, Noble County. Zent was an adventurer and was part of the Gordon party which went to the Black Hills looking for gold before being turned back by the military in 1875-76 but returned one year later to prospect. He then returned to Indiana but his suffering from rheumatism prompted him to move to Oklahoma for climate where he opened a tinsmith shop. Zent returned to Indiana once more in the 1890s where he died reportedly feeding his chickens.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The majority of Zent's papers consist of personal accounts and official quartermaster records from his time with the 13th Indiana Regiment during the Civil War, 1861–1864. Included are three detailed daily account books written by Zent of his and the regiment's experiences and apparently recorded shortly after the war. There is also Zent's diary from April-August 1865 detailing the last few months in the military after the war. The majority of the remainder of the items are his personal copies of the official quartermaster records, 1861–1865. Included are clothing returns, quarterly returns, invoices, abstracts, special orders, general orders, statement of charges, muster rolls, pay rolls, and statement of loses. There also are some military correspondence, pension related correspondence and some photographs of Samuel Zent and his family including one of his tinsmith shop in Oklahoma from 1895.
