BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL SKETCH

This photo album was collected by Jay Small (30 October 1917-27 January 2000). He was an Indianapolis antiques dealer. His personal interests included collecting images and books related to Indiana history.

In the early twentieth century, the W. Reisinger Decorating Company decorated store fronts, buildings, businesses, and private homes in and around Indianapolis with flags and patriotic bunting. Wesley Reisinger started the company in 1903 in Indianapolis. The business was first located on South Alabama Street, relocated to Pembroke Arcade off East Washington Street in 1913, moved to East Washington Street in 1920, and settled on North Randolph Street in 1924. At some point they were also located at 228 E. Ohio Street as identified in two photographs in this collection. The business ended when Wesley Reisinger died in 1929 or 1930.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The photographs in this collection date to the first two decades of the twentieth century and were taken in Indianapolis, Lebanon, and Crawfordsville. They include several images of the 1913 Indianapolis Auto Show, floats and carriages decorated for the floral parade in Indianapolis as well as various buildings and other events, all of which were decorated by the W. Reisinger Decorating Company. The collection also includes three newspaper articles about Reisinger and the Indianapolis auto shows from the years 1912 and 1984.

The photographs were removed from the album and are stored in one folder. The original order of images was maintained and the photographs are in good condition.
